

Transparencies for promotional presentations

Finding sponsors for the “Can We Talk?” workshop series requires lots of presentations in your community with parent groups, school officials, religious organizations, government agencies, businesses, and labor unions. The transparencies are a simple, concise way for you to give an overview of “Can We Talk?” while stressing the key talking points for the presenter. The companion video program, “Is it Time to Talk?,” and the “Can We Talk?” brochure provide you with all the tools you need to effectively market the training package to potential sponsors.

Directions

Photocopy the three overhead presentation pages onto transparencies. (See transparencies on p. 61, 63, and 65.)

See the sample promotional presentation on p. 53.

Transparency

A

Parents are experts.
With the right resources, they can enhance their skills.

Transparency

B

When it comes to sexuality, every family has different values.
All are respected.

C

Family talks about self-esteem, sex, and peer pressure should be ongoing.

