

Art for T-shirts and tote bags

“Can We Talk?” workshops may be competing with a night of TV, a sporting match, or a movie. Saturating the neighborhood with reminders of the “Can We Talk?” workshops is important and enhances the marketing efforts of community organizers competing for parents’ attention. T-shirts and canvas tote bags make great promotional tools, door prizes, and incentives to attend.

Directions for use

Contact some friendly silk screeners in your community (often times people involved with sporting events have good contacts) and get estimates for screening the “Can We Talk?” art onto T-shirts and/or canvas totebags. Usually, the higher the quantity the lower the per-unit price. (See T-shirt art on p. 89.)

This art is designed to be printed with black ink on a colored T-shirt or tote bag.
